PD010
A17.1 Safety Code for Elevators and Escalators

Day One

- Morning
  - Introduction
    - Discuss A17.1 supplements, including how to use them
    - Replace newer versions of documents
  - Discuss MRL elevators; indicate the “S” supplement; definition; how we will incorporate same.
  - A17.1: How to use the contents, index; an definitions to locate specific topic
    - Distribute list of terms and questions
  - Foreword, Preface, Editions
  - Part 1: General
    - Scope, purpose & exceptions, and definitions
- Afternoon
  - Index
  - Appendix
    - How to relate an appendix to a page in the code
  - Part 9: Reference Codes, Standards, and Specifications
  - Part 8: General Requirements covering all parts of code
    - Discuss 8.1 thru 8.11. How to find; alteration requirements; inspection intervals;
      - ❑ 8.1 & 8.6 thru 8.11 apply to existing as well as new elevators
      - ❑ Note: code data plate is 8.9. 8.4 and covers seismic requirements
  - Part 2: Electric Elevators

Day Two

- Morning
  - Part 2: Electric Elevators (continued)
- Afternoon
  - Part 2: Electric Elevators (continued)
  - Part 3: Hydraulic Elevators

Day Three

- Morning
  - Part 3: Hydraulic Elevators (continued)
- Afternoon
  - Part 6: Escalators and Moving Walks

Day Four

- Morning
  - Overview of:
    - Part 4: Elevators with Other Types of Driving Machines
    - Part 5: Special Application Elevators
    - Part 7: Dumbwaiters and Material Lifts
  - Overview of Codes:
    - A17.2 (Guide for Inspection of Elevators, Escalators, and Moving Walks)
    - A17.3 (2008 Safety Code for Existing Elevators and Escalators)
    - A17.4 (Guide for Emergency Evacuation of Passengers from Elevators)
    - A17.5/CSA B44 (Performance-Based Safety Code for Elevators and Escalators)
- Afternoon
  - ADA, ADAAG, CABO/ANSI A117.1 A18.1
  - Questions & Answer Session